VOLUME CVII.--NO. 144. ALEXANDRIA, VA., FRIDAY EVENING, JUNE 15, 1906. PRICE 2 CENTS.

The Best Guaranty of Merit Is Open Publicity.

Every bottle of Dr. Pierce's world-famed medicines leaving the great laboratory at Buffalo, N. Y., has printed upon its wrapper all the ingredients entering into its composition. This fact alone places Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines in a class all by themselves. They cannot be classed with patent or secret medicines because they are neither. This is why so many unprejudiced physicians prescribe them and recommend them to their patients. They know what they are composed of, and that the ingredients are those endorsed by the most eminent medical authorities.

The further fact that neither Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, the great stomach tonic, liver invigorator, heart regulator and blood purifier, nor his "Favorite Prescription" for weak, overworked, broken-down, nervous women, contains any alcohol, also entitles them to a place all by themselves.

Many years ago, Dr. Pierce discovered that chemically pure glycerine, of proper strength, is a better solvent and preservative of the medicinal principles residing in our indigenous, or native, medicinal plants than is alcohol; and, furthermore, that it possesses valuable medicinal properties of its own, being demulcent, nutritive, antiseptic, and a most efficient antiferment.

Neither of the above medicines contains alcohol, or any harmful, habit-forming drug, as will be seen from a glance at the formula printed on each bottle wrapper. They are safe to use and potent to cure.

Not only do physicians prescribe the above, non-secret medicines largely, but the most intelligent people employ them—people who would not think of using the ordinary patent or secret medicines. Every ingredient entering into the composition of Dr. Pierce's medicines has the strongest kind of an endorsement from leading medical writers of the several schools of practice. No other medicines put up for like purposes has any such professional endorsement.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets cure constipation. Constipation is the cause of many diseases. Cure the cause and you cure the disease. One "Pellet" is a gentle laxative, and two a mild cathartic. Druggists sell them, and nothing is "just as good." Easy to take as candy.

CLEANLY WOMAN.

Erroneously Thinks by Scouring Her Scalp That She Cures Dandruff.

Cleanly woman has an erroneous idea that by scouring the scalp, which removes the dandruff scales, she is curing the dandruff. She may wash her scalp every day, and yet have dandruff her life long, accompanied by falling hair too. The only way in the world to cure dandruff is to kill the dandruff germ, and there is no hair preparation that will do that but Newbro's Herpicide. Herpicide by killing the dandruff germ leaves the hair free to grow as healthy Nature intended. Destroy the cause you remove the effect. Kill the dandruff germ with Herpicide. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Scene in Russian Douma.

The lower house of the Russian parliament was swayed yesterday afternoon by successive waves of passion evoked by a series of government communications, including Military Procurator Pavloff's rejection of the appeal of the house for a cessation of the executions in the Baltic provinces and the cool request of the procurator of the district court that the house expel M. Ulianoff, who has been indicted, although a member of parliament, in order that he may be arrested pending his trial for press offenses. So fierce was the storm that President Mouromtseff announced that he would be compelled to adjourn the session if the demonstration was continued.

The district procurator's letter informed the house that the trial of M. Ulinoff was set for June 27, but that he was protected from arrest by the constitutional privilege of the house, and that according to a proviso of the statute the right of expulsion was asked for This was read, after a number of speeches assailing the court's action as being the most bare faced effrontery.

M. Kokoskine's resolution that the house saw no reason to utilize the right of expulsion and would proceed with the order of the day was adopted.

Procurator Pavloff then ascended the rostum in the face of the already angered house and declared that until the military laws were changed the courts martial had no option but to impose death sentences for such offenses as those committed at Riga and Sevastopol. The right of revision, he explained, rested solely with the governor generals, who could reject appeals or confirm sentences. The minister of war could not interfere and could not decide whether culprits should be judged by military or civil courts

Procurator Pavloff, after reading his communication in a hurried, agitated voice, immediately left the hall, but not too soon to escape cries of "Murderer" "Assassin!" and "Dog!" from the radicals.

At this point President Mouromtseff threatened to suspend the session unless order was restored. He recognized Professor Kusmin-Karavieff, who flatly gave Pavloff the lie. He cited case after case, with which he was familiar from his former connection with the Academy of Military Law, in which the Minister of War threw the influence of the courts-martial against accused persons.

M. Lednitsky, a Polish representative, who followed, presented, without a word of rebuke from the chair, the charge that Pavloff had deliberately delayed the orders suspending the sentences of the eight workmen executed at Riga, the reprieve arriving an hour after the executions. The speaker declared that the minister of war, instead of answering, tossed away the appeal of the house with a snarl at red tape, laying the responsibility on the regulations of the court-martial.

The only justification for the use of military procedure was to secure speedy action in times of stress. But the men executed at Riga were arrested in December and condemned in May.

Furthermore, their trials were illegal, as the offenses were committed before martial law was proclaimed.

M. Lednitsky concluded with saying: "These are murders and not sentences and you are murderers instead of fulfillers of the law."

Father Akhanatieff, of Ufa, brought the house to its feet with reference to the Holy Synod's prohibition of prayers for the repose of the soul of Lieutenant Schmidt, who was executed for participation in the naval mutiny at Sebastopol. He said the ministry was marked with the brand of Cain and was ripe for divine vengeance.

A vehement speech by M. Alladin, the leader of the peasant workmen group, was stopped by President Mouromtseff when M. Alladin called the ministers traitors and urged the conversion of the ministerial benches into a prisoner's dock.

The House adjourned after adopting a resolution expressing profound discontent with the answer of the ministry on the subject of the death sentences.

Dowie's Prediction.

Predicting that after his death he will return to the world and finish his work as "Elijah the Restorer," John Alexander Dowie created a profound sensation in the United States Court before Judge K. M. Landis in Chicago yesterday. The prediction came as the climax of a graphic description of his experiences and sensations when he was stricken with paralysis at a great meeting in Shiloh Tabernacle shortly before his departure for Jamaica to restore his health.

A Miraculous Cure.

The following statement, by H. M. Adams and wife, Henrietta, Pa., will interest parents and others. "A miraculous cure has taken place in our home. Our child had eczema 5 years and was pronounced incurable, when we read about Electric Bitters, and concluded to try it. Before the second bottle was all taken we noticed a change for the better, and after taking 7 bottles he was completely cured." It's the up-to-date blood medicine and body building tonic. Guaranteed. 50c and $1.00 at E. S. Leadbeater & Sons' drug store.

Followers of the "prophet" and those who were formerly under his influence but who are now in revolt gazed in awed silence on Dowie, as though expecting a miracle momentarily. The "first apostle" was wheeled into the court in an invalid's chair. After giving the story of his life Dowie told how he had conceived the idea of a holy city, and how in 10 years he had created $2,000,000 for the city he founded. Dowie's letter to Volivs, calling him to the United States, was read. One passage related to an interview with President Roosevelt, in which the President is asserted to have said:

"I'm a theocrat," adding: "I don't want to hold office much longer, and I want to be free to say and do things which I cannot do in the presidential chair."

In conclusion the first apostle stated he had often refused gifts that carried a trust with them or were meant for a particular purpose.

Cossacks Discontented.

Such shrewd judges of the Russian situation as Professor Milukoff, leader of the constitutional democrats, are growing more pessimistic daily. The radical elements in the lower house of parliament are getting more and more out of hand and events in the interior are marching so rapidly that people almost doubt whether the surrender of the government to the demand for a responsible ministry would not now come too late. The leaders, consequently, are preparing for eventualities.

The agrarian movement, which is now extending in all directions, threatens parliament as well as the government, and it is increasingly manifest that the troops who came from the villages are siding with the peasants, from whom they are recruited. Even the Cossacks are beginning to rebel against the odious work of holding the people in subjection. M. Svesshnikoff, a Cossack member of the lower house, claims to have received a thousand letters from Cossack soldiers saying they are tired of playing the role of oppressors of the people, and adding that the time-honored name of Cossack, formery synonymous with brave protectors of the country against the ravages of savage hordes on the border lands, was now anathematized, and they desire to right the wrongs they have been compelled to inflict on the nation.

Changed Places With Servant.

Before Judge O'Neill Ryan, of the Circuit Court at St. Louis, Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Jones, who is suing Judge Orville David Jones, of Edina, Mo., populist candidate for governor in 1896, for divorce, testified that she changed places with her colored servant and received a kiss from her husband intended for the lips of the dusky belle. Mrs. Jones said that the negro woman had told her things that aroused her suspicions. Accordingly she arranged with the servant to change places. She said she took her seat in the dining room one dark, moonless night. The shades were closely drawn and the room was black as a dungeon. Her husband's room, she testified, was next to the dining room. About 11. p. m. her husband opened the door, she said, and I called to Kate, the negress, and asked if he could come in. "I did not answer," she said, "I sat perfectly still. My husband crept silently into the room, threw his arms around me and planted a kiss on my lips. All this time he thought he was kissing the colored servant. The next day I hid in the pantry and heard Judge Jones telling Kate how he enjoyed the kiss."

SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

FRIDAY EVENING, JUNE 15, 1906.

THE Charleston News and Courier gives no serious consideration to President Roosevelt's avowal that under no circumstances will he again be a candidate for the presidential office. It says: "The substantial reason upon which to ground a belief that Mr. Roosevelt will not be the candidate of the republican party for President in 1908 is that the republican party may not nominate him. We are inclined to suspect that they have had enough of the 'Terrible Teddy,' but it is easily possible that they may be forced to use him again to avoid something even less palatable. In short, if Colonel William Jennings Bryan shall be the nominee of the democrats, Mr. Roosevelt may be the one man appearing available to beat him, for the obvious reason that 'Rooseveltism' and 'Bryanism' are much the same, Mr. Roosevelt being in his politics and views a fairly accurate replica of the Nebraskan, though their temperamental differences are considerable."

THE grand jury has made a report on the Curtin murder case which is substantially to the effect that the identity of the murderers of George Curtin six months ago are still unknown, although they say they have evidence which may lead to a solution of the mystery. This is the third examination into this perplexing case and, so far as results are concerned it has been almost as much of a waterhaul as those that have proceeded it. The grand jury have labored assidiously to probe the mystery, and in doing so have patiently examined about seventy persons who had been summoned before them. Those who it was supposed would prove to be star witnesses failed to wax into magnitude. There was but one thing to do—discharge the suspects—and this was accordingly done.

THE two houses of Congress have reached an agreement on the joint statehood bill which is a great improvement on the House bill. Oklaboma and the Indian Territory are to be admitted as the State of Oklahoma as soon as the voters of the two territories organize a government and adopt a constitution. New Mexico and Arizona are to be permitted to vote next November, each separately, on the question of union. If either territory opposes amalgamation both will remain territories until the time shall come when they will be admitted as separate States. If the people of the two territories prefer to maintain their present status for the present it is their business and the rest of the country can have no serious objection to offer.

BLOOD is again flowing in Russia, and more is to follow, according to today's dispatches. Jews and Gentiles are represented to be the parties in these unfortunate clashes, which revive racial hatred which has already extended through the centuries. Such occurrences are, to say the least, unfortunate, and are sad reflections on the era in which we live. It is said that a Jewish anarchist threw a bomb into a religious procession, and this act precipitated the conflict in which thirty innocent Hebrews were massacred and many more seriously injured. All sorts of wild reports are being circulated to the detriment of the Jews, some to the effect that Gentile maidens have been murdered by them.

THE report was revived in New York last night that Charles M. Schwab will turn up at the proper moment as a candidate for United States Senator to succeed Francis G. Newlands, of Nevada, whose term expires March 3, 1909. At present Mr. Schwab is a resident of New York State. But it is the impression nowaday's, among millionaires, that a seat can be purchased in the Senate at most any old time.

THE Charlottesville city council last night voted to lease the city gas plant for a period of twenty years to Washington capitalists. Charlottesville has become tired of municipal ownership.

From Washington.

[Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.]

Washington, June 15.

The Interstate Commerce Commission today sent out a drag net circular letter to every railway commany in the United States calling for information that will assist the commis ion in its investigation of the coal and oil business. Among other things, the railroads are directed to furnish the commission with a statement showing all coal and oil property owned by the railroads on January 1, 1906, or in which they may have had any interest at that time; also a list of all corporations which are in any manner connected with the coal or oil business in which the railroads have any interest whatever; also the names and addresses of all railroad officials who are charged in any way with the duty of distributing cars to shippers of coal or oil.

According to the statement of Senator Fulton, the republicans carried Oregon by even more of an overwhelming majority than the returns first indicated. "Only five democrats were elected to the upper house of the legislature," said Senator Fulton at the White House this morning, "and with the single holdover they had in the same branch, a handfull comprises their entire representation out of all the 90 votes in the legislative body. The Governor was the only other democrat elected in the entire State and he got in simply and solely because of his personal popularity."

The conference report an the statehood bill was adopted by the House yesterday, the final passage being marked by an impetuous reply of the Speaker to an insinuation of Delegate Smith of Arizona, that undue influence had been used to affect his position on the statehood question. Speaker Cannon, in a dramatic speech, resented insinuations that he had exerted improper influence on the statehood question and said: "That imputation, implied so far as it reflects upon the Speaker of this House, and, so far as I know or believe upon any other member of this House, is unworthy of the gentleman that uttered it and without foundation in fact."

The Navy Department is informed by cable of the drydock Dewey having passed Sabang on the thirteenth. Sabang is on the island of Pulo Web, off the west end of Sumatra. It is believed that Lieut. Commander Hosley will lay to with the Dewey and the towing squadron composed of the colliers Glacier, Brutus and Caesar at Singapore for rest and recreation. From now on the famous tow will have fairly clear sailing to Subig Bay.

The military secretary is informed of the death of Second Lieut. John B. G. McClure, artillery corps, at Fort Monroe, Va., yesterday. Lieut. McClure was born in Virginia, Oct. 8, 1879. He was appointed to the artillery corps July 16, 1901.

The House committee on interstate and foreign commerce today authorized a favorable report on the bill which has already passed the Senate, extending from 28 to 30 hours the period during which cattle in transit may be kept without water, food or rest.

In the House yesterday Mr. Rixey introduced a bill for the relief of the estate of Philip Houser.

Secretary of War Taft has received from Governor Pardee, of California, a letter expressing the gratitude of the people of San Francisco and of the State for the aid rendered by the War Department and the government generally during the days following the earthquake and conflagration

Mr. Munoz, minister from Guatemala, called at the State Department today and in an interview with Mr. Bacon, the assistant secretary, stated that he had received advices from President Cabrebra stating that the government forces had been successful in encounters with the revolutionists and that the strength of the uprising seemed broken. The State Department has received numerous messages from diplomatic and consular representatives in and around Guatemala reporting fighting. The advices are largely conflicting.

Representative Babcock, of Wisconsin, who was asked to testify before the grand jury in New York City in relation to campaign contributions by insurance companies, more particularly the Mutual Life, today received a letter from District Attorney Jerome informing him that his testimony would not be needed.

Alfred Washington Benson, the new Senator from Kansas, was introduced to the President today by Senator Long.

The following official statement was given out at the White House today concerning the President's letter of yesterday to Chairman Wadsworth of the House committee on agriculture on the subject of the committee's action on the the beef inspection bill; "In the letter to Mr. Wadsworth, the President stated that almost every change in the proposed House amendment was a change for the worse as compared with the Senate amendment and that no matter how unintentionally, it was, in the President's judgement, so framed as to minimize the chance of roasting out the evils in the packing business; that the President thought it would doubtless suit those packers who objected to a thorough-going inspection, but that he also thought it would in the long run, be a heavy blow to the honest stock raiser and the honest packer; that the proposed amendment would gravely hamper the Secretary of the Agriculture in doing the work appropriated him to do, and would simply defer the day we could restore the foreign and interstate trade in meat to a satisfactory position. The President has explained verbally that he is far less concerned with the question as to whether the packers or the government should pay for the inspection than with certain other features in the bill."

Chairman Wadsworth this afternoon wrote a letter to President Roosevelt in reply to the one received. He will not make known its contents. He has been in conference with Speaker Cannon. Members of the agricultural committee predict that it will "stand pat."

A contest between the House and the President is in prospect. Speaker Cannon has placed himself behind the Wadsworth inspection amendment notwithstanding the President's voiced opposition. In the view of the leaders "the House will pass a just and equitable inspection bill if it takes all summer." There is some violent comment privately made; no one will speak for publication. The gist of the comment is that the President has been badly advised and that his opposition to the bill is based on a misconception. Senator Beveridge comes in for much of the criticism. The charge is made that he has led the President into error. The President's chief objection to the Wadsworth substitute for the Beveridge amendment, as outlined in the letter from the President to Chairman Wadsworth of the agricultural committee of the House, is that it does not supply rigid night inspection of slaughtering and canning establishments. Speaker Cannon himself called on the President today, to convince him that he is in error. He pointed out that in this regard the Wadsworth measure has practically adopted the phraseology of the Beveridge amendment, granting the inspectors access "at all times to every part of said establishment," also providing for inspection "during the night time, as well as during the day time," when the slaughtering or preparing of food products is conducted during the night time. Notwithstanding Speaker Cannon's explanation, the President gave out a statement again declaring his disapproval. Chairman Wadsworth and several members of the agricultural committee of the House were in conference today on the subject. They maintain absolute silence. Chairman Wadsworth declines, for the present at least, to make public the President's letter of disapproval. The President's objections to placing the cost of inspection on the government are not emphatic enough to have decided influence in the House. The question of the cost will be sharply contested on the floor. The division of sentiment on this question is marked and not defined along party lines. The Illinois delegation is a unit in favor of the cost provision in the Wadsworth substitute and is supported in this by Representative Rainey, the only democratic member from Illinois. The other democrats also give it their support. There is a general demand for more detailed information as to what the President's objections are to "certain other features in the bill." Until this has been more fully explained, many members will remain undecided as to their course.

The fertilizer trust will be investigated by the Department of Justice, on the charge of violating the Sherman anti-trust law.

How serious the situation and the extent of the predicament into which President Castro has involved Venezuela by his foreign policies are set forth by Consul Thomas P. Moffat, of La Guayra, Venezuela, in a report to the State Department. War duties on exports, the consul says, continue. Provisions of all kinds, even those forming the principal food of the laboring classes, have advanced from 25 to 100 per cent. in price, while at the same time opportunities for employment are rapidly decreasing. No public works are being constructed or contemplated, with the exception of a floating dock, which is being built at Puerto Cabello. Since the announcement of the contract organizing a Government bank has been made public, gold has entirely disappeared from circulation. "The Hamburg line of steamers, which has regularly scheduled two steamers monthly for Venezuelan ports," says Mr. Moffat, "has withdrawn one steamer, owning to the smallness of the cargoes obtainable. The cities give ample evidence of this fact by the extraordinary number of vacant houses. The opportunity to keep in touch with the foreign market for cocoa and coffee, the principal articles of export, has been prevented though the severance of direct cable communication, which is of the utmost importance to those who must keep informed as to the market conditions in order to ship to the best advantage. Railroads and harbor concessions recently granted have been abandoned through misgivings as to the future, and the options paid thereon forfeited. That underlying conditions are prejudicial to prosperity, at least for the present, is so apparent as to cause anxiety on the part of all commercial interests. The extended uncertainty as to the adjustment of foreign matters is restraining trade in other quarters and compelling those who largely control the financial situation, commission and banking houses, to be very prudent in commitments involving any ventures beyond actual and present requirements."

News of the Day.

W. N. Cromwell, of New York, counsel for the old Panama Canal Company, will be summoned before the Senate committee on interoceanic canals to answer questions to which he has refused heretofore to give answers.

By threatening to attach a "rider" to the sundry civil appropriation bill, providing for the construction of a sea-level canal, Senator Hale late yesterday afternoon succeeded in forcing the Senate to set Thursday next as the day for voting on the present bill which determines the type of canal to be constructed at Panama.

Mrs. Laura Cook Corey, of Braddock, Pa., will not name any woman in her suit for divorce. It will be fought simply as a case of desertion and Corey will not oppose the decree. He will be represented by Attorney Summerfield, merely to conform to the recent decision of the United States Supreme Court. All these arrangements were made in Bradock. Mrs. Corey gets $8,000,000 for agreeing to these terms. This cuts out all likelihood of any sensational testimony. It is undetstood that Mr. Corey is going to marry a New York woman as soon as he is free.

Darker and more impenetrable grows the mystery surrounding the kidnapping of little Freddie Muth, the seven-year-old son of a Philadelphia jeweller, than at any time since the boy was lured from school three days ago by an unknown man.

Will Support Mr. Bryan.

E. C. Wall, who was the choice of the Wisconsin democracy at the St. Louis convention two years ago for the presidential nomination, will be enthusiastic for the nomination of Mr. Wm. Jennings Bryan at the next convention of that party. Although Mr. Wall came out prior to Bryan's second nomination as an advocate of the gold standard, he supported the free silver nominee at the polls. In speaking yesterday in Milwaukee of the Bryan wave, Mr. Wall said:

"I look upon Mr. Bryan as by far the ablest American citizen today in public life. I regard him as being in public life, because of his constant activity in public affairs and his attitude before the people. The silver question has been settled in this country—it settled itself—and I believe Mr. Bryan would prove the greatest leader the united democracy could find. I have always supported him."

The law providing for a rate of 2 cents a mile on all railroads in the State went into effect yesterday, but the new statute has been completely ignored by the railroads. The attorneys for the roads are a unit in declaring that the law is unconstitutional. The matter probably will soon be taken before the corporation commission and then into the courts for final decision.

The Court of Appeal, sitting in Wytheville, reversed the decision of the state corporation commission in the case of the Chesapeake and Ohio against the Commonwealth of Virginia, which decision was in favor of the railroad company. The suit grew out of the taking over of the James River and Kanawha canal and involved the building of a bridge at Maiden's Ferry, on the line of the Chesapeake and Ohio.

Capt. John G. Pollock died at his home, "Hobson," in King George county, Wednesday evening, after a short illness, aged 68 years. At the begining of the war he entered the army with the Fredericksburg Artillery, and served from a private to the position of its commander. In action or in camp he was always calm and collected, and was beloved by every man in his command. When he surrendered his command at Appomattox, he came home and engaged in farming. He is survived by his widow and three children, The funeral took place today and the interment was at "Marmion."

Will be Given a Speedy Trial.

By the order of Judge Henry Page the grand jurors of the April term of the Princess Anne, Md., court were summoned yesterday afternoon to appear in Princess Anne on Wednesday, June 20, when a special session of the Circuit Court for Somerset county will be held to try William Lee, colored, now confined in Norfolk jail, charged with criminally assaulting Mrs. G. Robert Barnes and Miss Frances Powell last Sunday at Kingston, Princess Anne county.

Sheriff Brown received the requisition yesterday afternoon, and will go to Norfolk and take the prisoner to Baltimore from there. He will be accompanied by the National Guard to protect the prisoner when he arrives at Princess Anne next week.

The jail is being guarded nightly by deputies sworn in by Sheriff Brown to protect Edward Watson, who is confined at Princess Anne for murderous assault upon Samuel S. Barnes. There has not been any demonstration at Princess Anne as yet of an attack upon the jail but the authorities deem it advisable to use precaution.

After a consultation with Judge Henry Page at Annapolis, Md., yesterday morning, Governor Warfield said that he had been informed by Judge Page that the negro, William Lee, charged with felonious assault in Somerset county and now in jail at Norfolk, would be given the speediest trial consonant with fairness, and, if convicted, his punishment would follow with equal speed.

"In the meantime," Governor Warfield said, "Judge Page and myself are determined that the man shall be tried and punished according to due course of law. The whole power of the State will be employed to assure this if necessary."

The Governor has received the assurance of Governor Swanson, of Virginia, that Lee may stay in Norfolk until wanted by the Maryland authorities. For obvious reasons the Governor was not willing to tell exactly what his plans are in regard to the disposition of Lee, but it seems clear that he will not be taked to Princess Anne until after the special grand jury meets there and brings in an indictment, as it doubtless will.

Thirty Jews Killed.

Warsaw, Russia, June 15.—The latest advices received from Bialystok, Russia, the scene of the massacre of Hebrews yesterday, are to the effect that 30 Jews were killed and over one hundred were wounded. Nearly all the shops and stores conducted by Jews were sacked and some of them were burned. Large numbers of panic stricken Hebrews have left the city. The principal streets of Bialystok are patrolled by troops and as a result order has been restored. The massacre was caused by a Hebrew anarchist who threw a bomb among the Corpus Christi procession at Bialystok yesterday, killing or wounding many persons. The Christians, enraged by the outrage, attacked the Jews on all sides. The conflict was most savage until the arrival of troops when order was restored.

Dialystok, Russia, June 15.—The situation here today following the outbreak yesterday in which serious street fighting occurred between Gentiles and Jews accompanied by considerable loss of life, is extremely critical

A rumor started today that a number of Gentile girls had been killed while they were returning to the city from surrounding villages. The story has greatly stirred the people and there will be a renewal of the massacres. The banks, shops, restaurants and factories are closed, and business is practically at a standstill.

St. Petersburg, June 15.—The expected trouble in the Douma was not long in brewing after the sitting began. Speaker after speaker savagely attacked the government laying the blame for yesterday's outbreak at Bialystock on the authorities. The Douma unanimously carried an interpellation for the appointment of a commission to investigate the illegal acts of the administration.

Probing Murder Mystery.

New Canaan, Conn., June 15.—The mystery of the killing of Selleck Dann, whose body was found yesterday in a well on his premises, at Selleck's Corners, is now in process of solution. The State's attorney's office in Stamford has taken charge of the investigation and it is believed that detectives are at work, but every one who is in a position to know any facts in the case is secretive. State's Attorney Fessenden makes a rule never to discuss a case at this stage and his assistant, Galen A. Carter, now in active charge of the office, adhere to the same rule. There have been rumors in New Canaan that suspicion rests upon someone who lives in the neighborhood of Selleck's Corners. Medical Examiner Kelley admits that he has a clue which may led to a solution of the mystery. Kelly will not indicate what it is. He said the clue may be a false one which seems to be more likely that it is true, that there would be serious danger of hinting at what it is, for it involves a person at Selleck's Corners who has heretofore borne a good reputation. The theory generally accepted is that the murder was committed by tramps tempted by the belief that Dann had a large sum of money hoarded in his little cottage. In the autopsy which took place last night at Larence's undertaking rooms were the body now is, three bullets of 32 calibre were extracted but the revolver from which they were fired has not been found. The coroner is to hold an inquest, but he is not expected in New Canaan today, and it is believed the inquest will be held open until the state's attorney and detectives have looked into the case thoroughly.

Accident to Street Cars.

New York, June 15.—Seven persons were injured and passengers on two trolley cars were thrown into a panic while women fainted today when a Tompkins avenue car crashed into a Grand street car at the Manhattan end of the Williamsburg bridge. Motorman Frank Beagin, in charge of the Tompkins avenue car, was on the incline coming toward the Manhattan end and in some manner lost control of the brakes. The car, crowded to the doors with its human freight, was but a short distance behind a Grand street car in charge of Motorman Beck. Seeing that a collision was inevitable Motorman Beagin jumped to the roadway and his car crashed in the Grand street car. The rear truck of the Grand street car was thrown from the tracks and there was a wild scramble of the occupants of both cars to get out. A number of women fainted and were carried to the promenade by policemen, where they revived. The seven injured were cut by flying glass or suffered from shock and contusions.

The Dreyfus Case.

Paris, June 15.—The hearing for the revision of the Dreyfus case opened today. The discussion was devoted to an examination of the secret documents in the case. Neither the public prosecutor nor Dreyfus's attorney is asking for a new trial, but for the quashing of the former judgment. The documents which were taken up for examination are said to show the absolute innocence of Captain Dreyfus and it is expected that the decree of the Rennes tribunal accordingly will be annulled. The plea for annullment rests upon charges of fraud in some of the secret documents and irregularities in the Rennes proceedings.

Blind From Mosquito Bite.

South Norwalk, Conn., June 15.—John Rodnir. of Westport, 35 years old, was recently rendered totally blind by a mosquito bite. He is at present at Norwalk Hospital. After four days of treatment the patient is now able to tell day from night and his ultimate recovery is hoped for. It was last Friday night that the mosquito bit Mr. Bodnir upon the lid of his right eye. The eye swelled up, but Mr. Bodnir paid no attention to it and retired for the night. When he awoke in the morning he was stone-blind. Bodnir suffers no pain, but says that the buzz of a mosquito is worse than agony to him.

The place was created by the recent session of the legislature. The salary is $3,000. Wilson, who is a young man, is V. M. I graduate and is fully qualified for the place.

Battle with a Bull.

Valentine, Neb., June 15.—In a bare-handed fight with a mad bull yesterday Nile Latta, a young ranchman, succeeded in killing the beast after his horse had been fatally gored. Latta interfered to separate the enraged animal from another bull with which it was engaged in battle royal. He tried to drive it home, but instead it ran for a lake nearby. Latta followed it into the water, where it charged and gored the horse, hurling it some distance.

Latta returned to the fight, seizing the bull by the tail. Finally he succeeded in climbing its back and worked himself astride the animal's neck. A desperate struggle followed. Latta kept his feet securely locked under the beast's neck and went to the bottom several times as the bull plunged in its efforts to dislodge him.

Watching his chance, he succeeded in forcing the bull's head under the water while it was gasping for air and held it there until it was drowned.

Pays $50,000 to Rejoin Church.

Sterling, Ill., June 15.—Twenty years ago Adam Spies, at that time a prominent manufacturer, left the Reformed Mennomite Church, of this city, because he could not be a Christian and be heavily in debt. The reason for his indebtedness was due to the destruction of his immense wagon plant, and owing to the rule of the Church, he could not insure it.

For 20 years he struggled. He built a plant in Clinton and later went to Abingdon, Ill. At the end of 20 years he paid off a a debt of $50,000 and yesterday rejoined the Church of his early life. He it now 70 years of age.

Rebellious Natives.

Berlin, June 15.—A great rebellion has broken out among the natives of German East Africa. A negro sorceress has been at work among the blacks arousing them against Europeans. The power of the sorcerees over the natives is so great that they have been incited to fanaticism in their desires to drive out white settlers and the insurrection in attributed directly to the witchcraft practiced by the sorceress and her agitation. It is stated that it will be necessary to send an army to Africa from Germany to quell the insurrection.

Fort Worth, Texas, June 15.—Reports have been received here of a race war between American and Mexican in Ears county in which a number were killed on both sides. Rare Souvenirs for White House.

A plate and two old Staffordshire saltcellars belonging to the State dinner set used by President John Quincy Adams were yesterday added to the presidential collection of china. They were the gift of Miss Louisa Catharine Adams Clement, of Newburyport, Mass., a great-great-granddaughter of President Adams. Her great-grandmother was born in the White House during President Adams' administration. Miss Clements is the possessor of many valuable souvenirs of President Adams. Another souvenir added to the White House collection yesterday is a handsome old rose silk sash worn by President Pierce during the Mexican war. At the close of the war and soon after his election as President Pierce presented the sash to Colonel J. A. Gove, U. S. A., whose son, Commander C. A. Gove, of the navy, yesterday gave it to the White House collection.

The Murder of Mrs. Kinnan.

New York, June 15.—Letters found by the police in the Stanton mansion, it is declared today, afford a pointed clue and definite motive for the murder of Mrs. Alice Kinnan, who was found with her skull crushed on the porch of her home seven days ago. An arrest in connection with the case is expected today. It is now the surmise of the police that a creditor, to whom a large amount of money was due, called at the mansion the night of the murder and expected to receive the money. The money was not forthcoming, and, believing that he was ultimately never to be paid, the man threatened court proceedings. A quarrel then developed, the police believe, which led to the delivering of the fatal blow. It is declared that, although the creditor is known, Mrs. Stanton has refused to name him, preferring to allow her daughter's death to go unavenged rather than be forced in the end to pay the large amount of money due the man. Mrs. Stanton has been, it is stated, most parsimonious, although supposed to be in fair circumstances. Naming the man, it is reasoned, who murdered her daughter, would bring out the facts of the indebtedness. The secret of his identity is within the bosom of Mrs. Stanton. It is believed that the man was "closer" than a mere creditor and was on confidential terms with the murdered woman.

New York Stock Market.

New York, June 15.—There was a continuation of liquidation in the early trading that caused further declines in nearly all the active issues After the declines the tone improved gradually, and the early losses were recovered in some cases and in others slight gains were made.

Fifty-ninth Congress.

Washington, June 15.

SENATE.

When the Senate met today, Mr. Mallory tried to secure the adoption of a resolution directing the Secretary of Agriculture to have the Florida Everglades surveyed and report as to the feasibility of draining for agricultural purposes.

Mr. Burrows and Mr. Gallinger objected. The resolution went to the calendar.

HOUSE.

In committee of the whole today the House gave further consideration to the sundry civil appropriation bill.

War claims under the rules privileged today, went over until tomorrow.

Invoking a point of order Mr. Sims had stricked from the sundry civil appropriation bill, the item of $25,000 to pay traveling expenses for members of the Keep commission, created by the President to investigate abuses in the conduct of departmental matters!

MORE BLOODSHED.

An anarchist, who, the authorities say, is a Jew, threw a bomb into the Corpus Christi procession at Bialystok, Russia, yesterday, and killed or wounded many persons in consequence, the Christians attacked and massacred the Jews and demolished their shops. Hundreds of persons were killed or wounded.

The bomb was thrown from the balcony of a house in Alexandrov street. A Russian clergyman named Fedoroff was among those killed by the explosion.

Immediately after the explosion Jews began to fire with revolvers from the windows of the houses into the crowd. Soldiers surrounded the house and fired two volleys into the windows. Meanwhile the enraged Christians attacked the Jewish stores in Alexandrov and Surax streets, demolishing the fixtures and windows and throwing the goods into the gutters and beating and murdering the Jews. A crowd of Jews fled to the railroad station, pursued by the mob, which killed many of them there. The Jews were thrown from second story windows of the railroad station building.

The Jews are fleeing from Bialystok to the neighboring forest and mobs are pursuing them. Detachments of dragoons have been sent out to protect the Jews.

Jews arriving at Bialystok on railway trains have been dragged out of the cars and many of them have been murdered. Troops have cleared the railway station.

The latest dispatches from Bialystok, received in St. Petersburg about midnight last night report a situation of the utmost gravity. The anti-Jewish outbreak there was still raging; fighting was in progress in the streets; the firing was continuous; the best stores in the city had been sacked and many persons were dead or wounded.

The signal for the outbreak, which apparently was deliberately planned, perhaps as a counter-stroke for the murder of Chief of Police Derkatchoff on June 10, which was attributed to Jewish bundists, is given as the explosion of a bomb during a religious procession. This was followed by revolver fusillades in several quarters of the city. The police are said not to have attempted to interfere in the early stages of the riot.

The Jews, who number three fourths of the population of the city, offered the best resistance possible, many of them being armed, but were unable to prevent the pillaging of their homes and places of business. Finally the military interfered, but without being able to restore order. Reinforcements have been rushed to Bialystok from Grodno.

Several members of parliament last night received messages from Jewish correspondents at Bialystok declaring that the police apparently had given over the Jewish population to slaughter and pillage.

The Meat Bill.

An examination of the substitute proposed by the committee on agriculture of the House for the meat inspection amendment of Senator Beveridge to the agricultural appropriation bill was made yesterday afternoon by President Roosevelt, who, it is said, is opposed to the House substitute in its entirety. He may not go so far as to veto the bill if it should be enacted by Congress, with the House amendment, but he has made it clear that he does not deem the House provision at all adequate.

A minority report prepared by Representatives Lamb, of Virginia, and Bowie, of Alabama, will be filed with the House. It will contain three main points of difference with the majority provision. These are: First, that the cost should not be put on the government; second, the court review; third, the waiving of the civil service regulations for one year in the appointment of inspectors.

Weather Probabilities.

For this section partly cloudy tonight and Saturday; warmer; light southerly winds.

Fatal Mistake.

Mr. George P. Clark a few days ago entered a drug store in New York and called for a dose of salts. The potion was prepared and he drank it and left the store. He had proceeded but a short distance when he was taken seriously ill and had considerable difficulty in reaching his home. His condition became so alarming that a physician was summoned when it was discovered that instead of swallowing salts at the drug store he had, by a mistake, been given poison. His death followed yesterday morning. The deceased lived on south Fairfax street in this city a few years ago, and members of his family still reside here. Mr. Clark came from the Dakotas to this city in the early nineties and was associated with the New Alexandria Improvement Company. He fitted up the basket factory at the new town. He was a piano maker by trade.

Red Men.

At the regular meeting of Osceola Tribe, No. I, I. O. R. M., held in their wigwam last night, after an animated contest the following officers were elected to serve during the ensuing term: Prophet, Jno. Ewald; Sachem, Wm. Wenk; Senior Sagamore, Wm. Garret; Junior Sagamore, Robt. Bender, and Deputy Great Sachem, Harry McLearen. On Tuesday night next the tribe will assemble at 7:30 o'clock and at 8 o'clock will have a public installation of officers in Odd Fellows' Hall on north Columbus street, which will be attended by a number of visiting officers and members of various Washington tribes, who will after the installation ceremonies endeavor to organize and institute a Council of Daughters of Pocahontas from among the resident ladies of Alexandria.

A Complaint.

People living in Alexandria county as well as many in this city whose business or inclination carry them in that vicinity are complaining of the fact that the new bridge recently erected over the tracks of the Washington-Southern Railway from St. Asaph Junction to the Poor House has not been completed. The iron work of the structure and the approaches were finished months ago, but, for some reason, the flooring has never been laid. Pedestrians and vehicles are still compelled to pass over a gridiron of tracks in order to reach the Washington pike at a point opposite the old St. Asaph race track. This is attended with inconvenience and no little danger from trains which are continually passing north and south.

New Approach

Workmen are now engaged in fitting up another approach to the new union depot. When the structure was constructed about a year ago a wide stairway was made under the culvert at King street extended which was intended to lead to north bound trains, but so far it has not been used. The approach to north bound trains has been via a tunnel under the tracks, and that to south bound trains by a stairway on the west. The new passageway will obviate the use of the tunnel by people leaving or boarding north bound trains. It will also be a nearer approach to the depot.

Runaway.

There was an exciting runaway on south Fairfax street late yesterday evening. The horse attached to a wagon belonging to Mr. W. A. Barnett became frightened and dashed north until it reached Wilkes street; then it turned east when it overturned the wagon and scattered candy in all directions. The horse became detached from the vehicle and was caught some distance away. In a few minutes time boys and girls from every quarter of the compass were on the scene gathering candy which had fallen from the wagon.

Wedding.

Miss Susan Scott Herbert, daughter of Mrs. Wm. W. Herberi, of this city, and Mr. George Doswell Brooke, of Cumberland, Md., were married at 8 o'clock last night at the home of the bride's mother on north Washington street, Rev. P. P. Phillips, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church, of this city, officiating. Miss Elizabeth Dulaney Herbert was maid of honor. After the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home, after which Mr. and Mrs. Brooke left on a bridal trip. They will reside in Cumberland.

Police Court.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.]

The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Martha Miller and Mary Cross, charged with disorderly conduct and fighting, were fined $5 each.

Fallen Wires.

Some wires of the electric railway at King and Fairfax streets fell this morning. A day or two ago others fell at King and Royal streets. Fortunately in both cases no pedestrians were struck by them. This is naturally looked upon as a serious matter, as there is danger of people being killed by such accidents. The railway company should see that their wires are properly secured so that they may not prove a menace to people passing along the streets.

Pleasant Excursion.

The excursion given to River View yesterday by the Young Men's Sodality Lyceum was an enjoyable affair, and all who patronized it were much pleased with their day's outing. A large number of persons went down on the 7:15 p. m. boat. The steamer St. Johns transported the excursionists to and from River View.

The first movement toward extending business from Alexandria to the new union depot west of this city has been inaugurated by an enterprising Italian, who has fitted up a fruit store at the fork of the road near Hooff's run.

Corporation Court.

[Judge L. C. Barley presiding.]

Com. vs John Dogan; third indictment for petit larceny; plea of guilty and prisoner sentenced to serve six months in jail.

The grand jury brought in two reports. One set forth that complaint had been lodged against C. H. Cutts, who keeps a restaurant on Fairfax street between King and Cameron; that he kept a disorderly house and, recommended that he be reprimanded and warned. Cutts was thereupon brought before the court, reprimanded and warned that his license would be revoked if further complaint were lodged against him.

The other report was as follows:

We, the grand jury, after a careful examination of a large number of witnesses in the Curtin murder case, beg to inform the court that certain new evidence has been adduced which, in the opinion of the jury, may lead to a solution of the mystery if followed up by the Commonwealth's Attorney, and we request that this jury be adjoured to some further date to be determined upon after the Commonwealth's Attorney has had an opportunity to make the necessary investigation.

J. F. PEYTON, Foreman.

The grand jury was thereupon adjourned till the 29th.

The grand jury returned two indictments against Leroy Beach; one for selling liquor on Sunday and the other for selling liquor without a license.

A capias was issued and Beach was brought into court and released on bail for his future appearance.

Yesterday evening in the proceedings against the members of the City Council to compel that body to make certain repairs and improvements to the city jail, Judge Barley stated that unless Council took action toward making such improvements and repairs, he would issue a mandamus requiring that body to do so. It is understood that all needed work at the jail will soon be made.

Personal.

Police Justice Caton has returned from Westminister, Md., where he went to attend the closing exercises of Westminister College.

Mr. Isaac Ball, chief clerk of the Bureau of Animal Industry, is ill at his home in Baltimore. About thirty years ago Mr. Ball was engaged in the newspaper business in Alexandria, he having been associated with the late M. D. Ball in the publication of the Virginia Sentinel.

Shortly before 6 o'clock yesterday afternoon the grand jury, which has been engaged in an investigation of the Curtin murder case since last Monday morning, discharged from custody John Ryan, Stephen Davis and George W. Cole, and adjourned until 10 o'clock this morning. The grand jury examined about seventy witnesses since Monday. The jury was adjourned today until the 29th instant.

Jersey's Biggest Baby.

It is not difficut to give the weight of Gracie Mildred Flora Gaskill, of Mount Holly, N. J., who has to her credit one pound of flesh for each of the 51 weeks she has been in existence. She is the daughter of Mrs. Emma Gaskill, of Monroe street, a frail woman of only 120 pounds, and a mother hardly able to carry her baby short distances about the house. Mrs. Gaskill states that Gracie weighed 12 pounds at birth, 39 pounds at the age of nine months, and a few days ago 51 pounds. In celebration of the first anniversary of her birth a party will be held on Saturday, June 23, and the child will be given considerable attention. Gracie's flesh laps over in deep folds. The rapidity with which she has gained in weight has caused the proud mother to fear that it might be a case that needed medical treatment, but physicians say the child's health is perfect. Gracie tries hard, but she cannot stand, and it will probably be many months before she will have strength to carry her own weight.

Body Found in a Well

The body of Selleck Dann, an aged basketmaker, was found in the bottom of an old well on his place near New Canaan, Ct., yesterday. Dann had been missing for about a week, and some of the neighbors yesterday instituted a search, which resulted in the finding of the body. The interior of his house was in confusion, and in his sleeping room the deputy sheriff's found a blood stained hatchet. There were three wounds on the top of his head and another on the side of the head, which, it is said, may have been caused by a hatchet. The police say there were unmistakable signs of robbers about the place, and believe the old man was murdered. Dann lived alone in the house.

Dann was last seen alive on June 3. He on that day went to New Canaan with a number of baskets, which he sold. He returned to his home early in the day. During the afternoon neighbors noticed a tramp prowling about the premises, later a stranger, tall, dark and well attired, called and spent more than an hour in the door yard talking to Dann.

When he departed the aged basketmaker remarked to several persons: "That fellow wanted to buy this place, but I wouldn't sell. No, sir, not me." Then he entered the house, and so far as is known, never left it alive.

When the body was discovered and brought to the surface it was found to have been terribly mutilated. Four gunshot wounds in the breast had nearly torn away the head from the body. The skull was so crushed as to be all but unrecognizable.

Proposed Railway.

A meeting of the citizens of Rappahannock and Warren counties was held in the courthouse at Front Royal yesterday afternoon for the purpose of organizing to promote and build a railroad from Front Royal through Chester Gap, Rappahannock, Madison, Greene, and thence through Louisa and Fluvanna to Richmond and tidewater.

A committee of 12 was appointed to solicit subscriptions for the preliminary survey of the road from Front Royal to Sperryville and obtain a charter.

An experienced engineer has gone over the proposed route during the past few weeks and has reported that the road could be built for about $5,500 per mile. The survey from Front Royal to Sperryville will cost $1,600, over $1,000 of which was subscribed at once.

A. W. Dearing, one of the wealthiest men of Northern Virginia, has shown great interest in this road, and has proposed to give a right of way through his extensive landed estate. The road will pass through new and undeveloped territory from Front Royal to Richmond, and will give shorter and quicker connections with the valley. Northern financiers have indicated to the Board of Trade of Front Royal their willingness to finance the scheme, which their representative says is a very attractive one. This route would furnish connections for Richmond with the Baltimore and Ohio, Cumberland Valley, Southern and Norfolk and Western from points near Front Royal.

Pope May Leave Vatican

A rumor is again circulating in Rome that the Pope intends to leave the Vatican and go to the papal villa at Castel Gandolfo, on Alban Lake, two hours' drive from Rome. The report is strengthened by the recent illness of the Pontiff and the fact that he needs a change of air in order to completely recover. The moderate section of the Catholic press seems to be preparing the ground for the change by explaining that if the Pope breaks up his voluntary captivity in the Vatican this would not alter the relations between the church and the Quirinal which have existed since 1870, especially considering that the change will be from the Vatican to the papal villa of Castel Gandolfo, which, like the Vatican, enjoys extra-territorial rights.

TO THE OWNERS OF DOGS!

MAYOR'S OFFICE,
Alexandria, Va., June 8, 1906.

All persons owning or intending to keep any animal of the Dog or Canine species should come forward on or before and take out a license for the same from the Auditor. After the 30th of June all persons owning or harboring Dogs without the required license are subject to a fine as the laws on the subject require of $3 or $5.

Complaint has been frequently made that many persons fail to take out their license, and that others pay on one or two Dogs when owning and harboring more, or who send such Dogs away during the summer months and bring them back in the fall.

Attention has been called to this evasion of the law, and policemen will report all such cases, and fines can be imposed upon those who fail to take out licenses after trial in the Police Court.

The police officers will be required to report all violations of this law.

☞In order to avoid any mistakes persons who make application for licenses would do well to write their names and number of residence, street, etc., on a card or paper when making application for their licenses to the Auditor.

FRED. J. PAFF, Mayor.

WOMEN'S NEGLECT

SUFFERING THE SURE PENALTY

How many women do you know who are perfectly well and strong? We hear every day the same story over and over again. "I do not feel well; I am so tired all the time!"

More than likely you speak the same words yourself, and no doubt you feel far from well. The cause may be easily traced to some derangement of the female organs which manifests itself in depression of spirits, reluctance to go anywhere or do anything, backache, bearing-down pains, flatulency, nervousness, sleeplessness, or other female weakness.

These symptoms are but warnings that there is danger ahead, and unless heeded a life of suffering or a serious operation is the inevitable result.

The never-failing remedy for all these symptoms is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Miss Kate McDonald of Woodbridge, N. J., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham:

"Restored health has meant so much to me that I cannot help from telling about it for the sake of other suffering women.

"For a long time I suffered untold agony with a female trouble and irregularities, which made me a physical wreck, and no one thought I would recover, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has entirely cured me, and made me well and strong, and I feel it my duty to tell other suffering women what a splendid medicine it is."

For twenty-five years Mrs. Pinkham, daughter-in-law of Lydia E. Pinkham, has under her direction, and since her decease, been advising sick women free of charge. Her advice is free and always helpful. Address, Lynn, Mass.

Andirons.

In regard to andirons a writer in the Connoisseur points out the curious fact that the older specimens rarely come in pairs, but are of different heights and sizes. It was the custom in the middle ages, it seems, to make them uneven so as to facilitate the moving and raising of the huge blocks employed for firewood. He continues:

In the middle ages they were also planned to hold a spit, and it was not until the late sixteenth century that they were much ornamented. According to Viollet le Duc, since the most remote ages, from Etruscan times down to the Romans, such andirons were made of iron. Vasari speaks of andirons made with "meravigliose magistero" for the captains of the Arte della Seta, but I have not found much ornamentation upon them as early as he says. I have a theory of my own, which is contrary to that of Viollet le Duc. In England andirons are called fire dogs, and in the Bargello there is a splendid specimen made in the form of crouching hounds. I hold that the andirons were in the first instance made in the shape of animals lying at rest, shaped of clay or stone, and it was much later that they were made of iron, when they often ended in animals' heads, most often in that of dogs.

Advertising a Novel.

In a New York literary club two novelists were discussing a novel of the eighties and of which 60,000 copies had been sold.

"It was," said the older man, "the best piece of advertising I ever heard of, for it was advertising, not merit, that made the book popular.

"The author has a millionaire bachelor friend—call him Millions—and he persuaded Millions to let him write for a newspaper a paragraph to the effect that the novel's heroine had made a hit with him, and if he could find anywhere a girl resembling her he would marry her.

"This paragraph duly appeared. It was copied all over the country. The young women of America, on fire with curiosity and hope, bought and read the book in order to see if they stood any chance with Millions."

The younger novelist took out his notebook.

"By Jove," he muttered. "It wouldn't hurt to resurrect that scheme."

To Tan Fur Skins.

A formula often used to tan skins with hair or fur on is this: Wash the skin and scrape off any flesh that may be sticking to it. Then wash the hair side with water and soap and rinse well. Take one pound each of salt and pulverized alum, two ounces of borax dissolved in hot water, add enough rye meal (cornmeal may answer as well) to make a thick paste and spread all over flesh side. Then fold lengthwise, with the hair side out. Let remain two weeks in an airy but shaded place; then unfold, shake well and wash flesh side with water and scrape with some sort of dull scraper. Pull and stretch and work till dry. The quantity of ingredients must be in the proportions given, but the size of the skin must determine the quantity used. The quantities named probably would be enough for two or three sheepskins.—St. Louis Republic.

Currants.

Currants are really little grapes, quite without seeds, having thin skins and very sweet. They have been known from very ancient times, for the name itself is a corruption of "Corinth," the Creek city where they were originally cultivated. Vines produce no fruit for three years after planting, but in the fourth year there is a small crop, which increases up to the twelfth. Those grown in the island of Zante are most esteemed. Currants are simply dried in the sun on the ground and then packed for shipment. In some parts of Greece they are also made into a sweet wine.

Norway In Scotland.

Few people are aware of the fact that the Orkney and Shetland islands, strictly speaking, belong to the kingdom of Norway. Toward the close of the fifteenth century King Christian of Norway pledged the Orkneys and the Shetlands, over which his rule was undisputed, to King James III. of Scotland for the payment of the dowry of his daughter Margaret, who became queen of Scotland. The pledge has not yet been redeemed.

Begging.

A man on being accosted by a beggar said:

"Why don't you go to work? Why do you waste your time begging?"

The beggar drew himself up.

"Did you ever beg?" he said.

"No, of course not," said the man.

"Then," said the beggar, "you don't know what work is."

Easy English.

"Ah, your language! Eet ess so difficult."

"What's the matter, count?"

"First, zis novel eet say ze man was unhorsed."

"Yes?"

"Zen it say he was cowed."

Marked.

"His attentions to you have been marked, have they not?" said the young woman's experienced friend.

"Oh, yes. He has never taken the price ticket off any of his presents."

Precisely.

Izzy Innit—Did you ever hear an oyster bay?

Tommy Rott—Yes, it's sort of a Long Island sound.—New York Times.

Mean.

Molly—Have you seen Mabel's engagement ring? Dolly—Seen it? Why, I wore it all last summer.

If Tennis Balls Were Eggs How Careful We Would Be!

Hundreds of families go along every day exercising little or no care in the selection of their household supplies when they ought to be CAREFUL about the quality of goods; CAREFUL to see that the goods are perfect; CAREFUL that the price is not too high; CAREFUL that everything is as represented; CAREFUL that prices are not overstated.

There is one way of getting rid of this care and that is by dumping it all on us. We exercise such care in buying goods ourselves that even Entertaining Lions.

Concerning lions, we all like to entertain them. Most of them like to be entertained. Birds of a feather may flock together, but lions rarely enjoy the company of their kind (two of a kind never can agree). The solitary thrush sings alone. A lion is like that sort of bird. I have seen more than one dinner party spoiled by the multiplicity of lions at the table. The lion likes to have the floor to himself. He is always in better humor when there is no other to dispute it with him. When you have the luck to snare a lion remember that he is a kingly creature and select your guests with a view to his comfort and pleasure. It is better to invite lambs to meet a lion than to ask another lion. Every circle has its lambs.—Maud Howe in Harper's Bazar.

A Ghastly Ceremony.

Mohammedans of the Caucasus have a religious ceremony called "Chucksee Wucksee." It is a ceremony in which the fanatics cut and wound themselves in the following ghastly fashion, according to a traveler: "Each man, grasping a kinjal in his hand, brought it up in front and down on the crown of his head. Almost at every stroke the blood gushed forth, and soon one man after another became a staggering, blood soaked figure."

Making It Easy For Him.

"I must warn you, Bridget," said Mrs. Nuritch, "to see that the peas are thoroughly mashed."

"Mushed, is it?" remarked the new cook in surprise.

"Yes; Mr. Nuritch is so high strung, you know, they make him nervous when they roll off his knife."—Exchange.

A Skeptic.

"Did you tell your father the story I read to you of Jonah and the whale?" asked a teacher of one of his scholars.

"Yes, sir," replied the lad, "but he didn't believe it. Dad never believes any fish stories unless he tell them himself."

Bound to Disagree.

Hicks—The idea of his marrying Miss Roxley! Why, he's a dyspeptic! Wicks—What has that to do with it? She has plenty of money, and— Hicks—That's just it. She'll never agree with him; she's too rich.—Exchange.

Marvelous.

She—And to think I am the only girl you ever loved! He—Yes, dear. She—And to think you thought I believed it! —Brooklyn Life.

Where a man has a passion for meditating without the capacity of thinking a particular idea fixes itself fast and soon creates a mental disease.—Goethe.

Long Tennessee Fight.

For twenty years W. L. Rawls, of Bells, Tenn., fought nasal catarrh. He writes: "The swelling and soreness inside my nose was fearful, till I began applying Bucklen's Arnica Salve to the sore surface; this caused the soreness and swelling to disappear, never to return."
